About Covermark:

Skin camouflage is used to alleviate the psychological, physical and social effects that a perceived imperfect or altered image can have on a person's life. Applied via a simple application technique skin camouflage can render an immediate and long-lasting effect.

Just like a tattoo, a scar can symbolize a memory or a significant point on our life's journey. If desired, skin camouflage can present the individual with a choice of coverage to a level that they are comfortable with. Some individuals may also choose to use a camouflage treatment to manage a variety of skin conditions to help them feel confident in their skin.

Covermark® is a world leader in cosmetic camouflage and has a prestigious history of more than 80 years. It is a specialised camouflage treatment, which contains up to four times more pigments in its preparation compared to ordinary fluid foundations.
